DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Group I. Claims 1-25, drawn to an absorbent article having a wetness sensation member, classified in class 604, subclass 361.

Group II. Claims 26-30, drawn to an absorbent article having no wetness sensation member, classified in class 604, subclass 358.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions Group I and Group II are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the article can have a visible highlighting indicating. The subcombination has separate utility such as a leakage indicator for a catamenial tampon.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

If Group I is selected then an election of species is required:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species 1. article having at least one wetness sensation member including a permeable body-facing layer covering a portion of the absorbent core as per claim 1;

Species 2. article having at least one wetness sensation member integrated with the topsheet as per claim 7;

Species 3. article having at least one wetness sensation member not formed by a portion of the topsheet as per claim 13;

Species 4. article having at least one wetness sensation member disposed on a portion of the body-facing surface of the topsheet as per claim 16;

Species 5. article having a plurality of wetness sensation members integrated with the barrier cuffs such that a portion of the barrier cuffs forms a flow control layer as per claim 19;

Species 6. article having a plurality of wetness sensation members integrated with the barrier cuffs such that a portion of the barrier cuffs forms a permeable body-facing layer and also including a flow control layer as per claim 20;

Species 7. article having at least one wetness sensation members including a flow control layer between a permeable body-facing layer and the absorbent core as per claim 21.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, these claims are generic to the named species.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
